

GENERAL INTERNIST

South Shore Health is seeking a General Internist with an interest in diabetes care. The Internal Medicine service is a very active multi-specialty group offering sub-specialty services in Respiriology, Cardiology, Gastroenterology and Neurology. South Shore Regional Hospital has a full Non-Invasive Cardiac Investigation Unit, Sleep Lab, Cardiac Rehabilitation and Heart Function Clinic. Candidates are expected to share on-call duties with 6 other Internists for General Medicine and a 6 bed ICU. Diabetes Education centres are located at Fishermen's Memorial Hospital and Queens General Hospital. The position is based at the South Shore Regional Hospital.

South Shore Health serves the 60,000 residents of Lunenburg and Queens Counties from three hospitals; South Shore Regional in Bridgewater, Queens General in Liverpool and Fishermen's Memorial in Lunenburg. The total bed capacity for the District is 130.

Remuneration is primarily by Fee for Service.

South Shore Health is located on the beautiful South Shore of Nova Scotia, approximately 90 kilometers south of Halifax. The South Shore is a very special place to live with beautiful scenery, ocean beaches, fishing, golf courses, and a variety of cultural and outdoor activities.
